

Why Don't You?

In the last two days many persons have made purchases from the lot of Fine Furniture that was damaged in the car coming from the factory. They have secured desirable goods at a great saving. It seldom happens that a chance like this is offered. Why don't you look into this and see if you can find some article you need and take advantage of the opportunity to buy it at a great reduction?

Some odd pieces and suites have been taken from our regular stock for one reason and another and included in this sale. The quantity is limited. You must act quickly if you want to secure a bargain.

Petersburg, Va., April 8.

The Board of Aldermen last night refused to concur in the ordinance passed by the lower branch appropriating $43,700 for the improvement of River and Second Streets, as provided for in the recent bond issue. While the improvement is favored, it was the sense of the Board that no action should be taken until the question of damages to property on River Street resulting from the raising of the grade of the street.

The grade about four feet. The ordinance was therefore laid on the table until this information can be ascertained. The Board concurred in the Council's resolution for the appointment of a committee, consisting of W. R. McKenney and W. L. Wheary, of the Council, and G. C. Wright, of the Board, to ascertain of assessors property damages, with an amendment appropriating $300 for the employment of experts, if deemed necessary, to advise the committee in the premises.

The Board concurred in the Council's efforts to amend it being defeated. The ordinance is the same as the one now in existence. The ordinance prohibits traffic or speculation in burial lots in Blandford Cemetery, west of the town, without the approval of the Board of Aldermen. The ordinance was amended making its provisions applicable to all streets in the city, instead of the contested street only.

An ordinance drawn by the City Attorney at the request of the Board, touching fees of municipal officers, was referred to the Finance Committee. The ordinance abolishes fees of the Commissioner of Revenue and Collector of City Taxes on and after January 1, 1914, and of the Collector of Delinquent Taxes and Register of Water Works on and after July 1, 1914. Its object is to place these several officers on the salary basis. The Board transacted a great deal of routine business.

SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY.

Two White Men in Fracas After Personal Difficulty.

During a personal difficulty on Rose Street last night between E. H. Jessup and Wilber Grubbs, both white, the latter received a severe cut on the arm and shoulder, which required nine stitches to close. The trouble between Jessup and Grubbs was entirely personal. Jessup was arrested and in the Police Court this morning he was sent on to the Hustings Court to be tried for felonious cutting.

DOG HAD RABIES.

Examination Made of Canine That Attacked Mr. Sutherland.

Eugene Sutherland, of Dinwiddie County, who was bitten several days ago by a stray dog at his home at Sutherland's and who is now undergoing treatment at the State Health Department, in Richmond, was in the city to-day feeling all right. Information from Washington, where the dog's head was sent for examination, is that the animal was suffering with rabies. Suspecting this, Mr. Sutherland took the precaution for prompt treatment.

KILLED ON RAILROAD.

Wife of John Holtz Practically Decapitated by Shifting Engine.

A distressing accident occurred this afternoon near Totty's Pond, in Prince George County, by which the wife of John Holtz was instantly killed. Mrs. Holtz left her home near Disputanta to go to a rural mail box, a short distance away. Having to cross the Norfolk and Western Railway on her way, she was struck and run over by a shifting engine. Her head was almost severed from the body, and, of course, her death was instantaneous. Besides her husband, Mrs. Holtz is survived by two children.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Participant in Parade Injured by Fall From Horse.

The members of Powhatan and Tippecanoe Tribes of the Order of Red Men, of this city, paraded through the principal streets last night in full regalia. The turnout was large, and the parade was a fine one. The only unpleasant incident of the march was an accident that befell Thomas Grigg, of this city, who was in the parade, whose horse stumbled and fell while passing along Bollingbrook Street. In his fall, Grigg sustained the fracture of the bones of one of his feet. He received medical attention and was subsequently taken to his home in Ettrick.

INSTALLED IN NEW QUARTERS.

Benevolent Mechanics' Association Moves to New Home.

The Petersburg Benevolent Mechanics' Association, with its splendid library of between 2,000 and 15,000 volumes, is now comfortably installed in the new quarters on the seventh story of the association's building, at the corner of Sycamore and West Tabb Streets. New and up-to-date furniture has been put in place, and everything is convenient and attractive. The association's library is one of the best and most valuable in the State.

NEGRO BADLY HURT.

Received Numerous Injuries in General Row at City Point.

Anderson Epps, colored, was brought to the city in a wagon and taken to the hospital in a badly injured condition this morning. His leg was broken, he had been shot in the shoulder and struck over the head. His injuries were received during a row among some negroes last night at City Point. He claims to have been hit by a shot from a man named Pichard. The broken leg set by a physician at City Point before he was brought here.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Mrs. R. R. Meacham will leave tomorrow for Fredericksburg to attend the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society, of East Hanover Presbyterian.

Monroe Brockwell, a Confederate veteran, formerly of Prince George and Petersburg, died yesterday in the Soldier's Home, Richmond. His body was brought to the city to-day, and the funeral will take place tomorrow.

BABY AIDS LICENSE SUIT.

Good Enough Certificate of Illness for the Allentown, Pa., April 8.—For what he considered a good reason, Judge Trevelyan yesterday granted the license to Oliver Snyder, of the Lyon Valley Hotel, to Oliver Snyder.

Mrs. Snyder's husband died recently, and last Friday she became the mother of a baby boy. This fact he was a certificate until the court demanded that a certificate be produced. A brother of the woman went on to stand and naively remarked: "Providence made me an uncle only three days ago, and really my poor widow sister can't be here."

MAYOR'S COW MUST MOVE.

Even Blue-Blooded Kind Not Wanted in City.

Atlantic City, April 8.—"Bossy," a blue-blooded cow and the Mayor Riddle's model "farm" at Albany Avenue, is the heart of exclusive Chelsea, must go. The other four members of the commission, at their meeting yesterday, refused to let the chief executive had because the resort is permissible to keep cows within the city limits.

The other commissioners insisted that this be stricken out, and the Mayor was finally forced to yield their demands after a bitter fight.

LAW YIELDS TO HONEYMOON.

Reckless Chauffeur Paroled a Month by Kind Judge.

Yonkers, N. Y., April 8.—Love took precedence over law, when George D. Ellis, of New York, appeared before Judge Beall in the Yonkers Court of Special Sessions yesterday. Ellis informed the court that he had been married three days ago and is on his honeymoon. Judge Beall thereupon paroled the honeymooner for one month, and his wife, Mrs. Ellis, his bride was with him.

Ellis is a chauffeur for F. W. Wright, who lives at the Hotel Walton, in New York. While driving through the city last Tuesday afternoon Ellis struck John Howard, of El Hospital, and when he was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, he informed Wright, who owned the car, to Police Chief Wolf about the accident.

FIND RARE WASHINGTON.

One of Replicas of Stuart Portrait Sold for $10,000.

Baltimore, April 8.—After having hung in a colonial mansion, in an isolated section of Howard County, for more than a century, a portrait of George Washington, painted by a wealthy New York collector, has been sold for $10,000. The portrait, which was painted by Gilbert Stuart, has been sold to a wealthy New York collector, who owned the portrait, declined to give the name of the purchaser.

The portrait is one of six replicas of the first Washington portrait painted by Stuart in Philadelphia. It is supposed to have been painted by Stuart for the Hon. Alexander Contee Hanson, an assistant private secretary to Washington, and the first judge of the General Court of Maryland.

yesterday, and have returned to the city.

This morning at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, by the Rev. Father O'Farrell, Miss Jeanne Blain and John Ciesler, a young Bohemian couple, of Dinwiddie County, were married. A wedding celebration followed at their future home in Dinwiddie.

Deposits of plaintiffs in the famous Harrison Street (colored) Church case, will be resumed to-morrow before Commissioner J. B. Prince. It is believed the case is about reaching its final stage. The depositions now being taken bear on the trial of twenty-six defendants to be given the right to vote in the church meeting.

Hollywood Camp, Woodmen of the World, of this city, is considering the question of organizing a uniformed degree team.

ELECTION WILL BE HELD ON MAY 9

Fate of Saloons and Shipping Houses in Bristol Will Be Decided Then.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Bristol, Va., April 8.—The fate of a well established whiskey traffic in Bristol, Va., will be determined in an election to be held May 9. Judge Kelly, in response to a petition, to-day ordered an election, and fixed May 9 as the date. The fate of more than a dozen saloons and shipping houses hangs on the result. The fight will be hot from the start. The temperance people in the city are well organized, while the friends of the whiskey traffic are getting busy.

The large revenue to the city will be one of the strongest arguments of the friends of the traffic for its continuance. The municipality now has a surplus of $75,000 as a result of this revenue, covering four years. Wholesale dealers in Cincinnati, Louisville and other cities are interested.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE WIRE

UNCLASSIFIED BY THE FLOOD.

Dayton's Tie-Up of Stamps Leaves Bethlehem in Second Class.

Bethlehem, Pa., April 8.—The recent flood at Dayton, Pa., is responsible for the Bethlehem post-office not being added to the list of first-class offices. On March 31 the receipts were not quite $500 short of the $400 mark necessary to transfer the office.

But for the flood the local office would have received $500 worth of stamped envelopes printed in Dayton, but delayed by the tie-up of traffic.

BULLET IN HIS HEAD A SECRET.

Wounded Insurance Man Refused to Explain and Resumed Business.

Williamsport, Pa., April 8.—As the result of a post-mortem examination yesterday physicians located the bullet in the head of Emil Ahlquist, an insurance manager, who died in the Renovo Hospital from an unknown cause.

Ahlquist was a well known resident, having lived in Renovo for eight years, where he was considered a successful business man. Two days ago his boarding-house keeper found him lying on the floor of his room, suffering from a head wound. He had fallen over the edge of the bed, and had struck his head on a post, and refused to allow a physician to examine the injury.

Later he appeared to recover and returned to his office. When his condition became serious on Friday he was taken to the hospital to allow a physician to examine the wound.

His death puzzled the physicians and the coroner conducted a post-mortem and inquest. He was about thirty-eight years old.

ALWAYS ON THE MOVE.

Divorce Suit Follows Change of Home Every Two Weeks.

Atlantic City, April 8.—Claiming that "life had become just one moving day after another," Mrs. Gertrude Toomey entered suit for divorce from her husband, Claude Toomey, a young realty broker, in the Court of Chancery here yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Toomey's strongest ground in her plea for separation was her testimony that "he made us take a new home every two weeks for every two weeks for the past year."

VICE-CHANCELLOR LEAVING WITHHOLDING DECISION.

Girl Saves from Jail Man Who Shot Her and Will Wed Him.

New York, April 8.—Five bullets could not destroy Amelia Steersman's love for a young man, a young mechanic, last October when he shot and nearly killed her. He pleaded guilty and was about to receive sentence when the girl unexpectedly appeared in court.

"Even if he did shoot me," she tearfully pleaded, "I love him. He was my husband, and I am going to marry him. If you don't let him go, I will marry him when he gets out if it's twenty years from now."

The court suspended sentence and the reunited lovers immediately in search of a marriage license.
